Drew joined the Accident Fund team in 2014 as a loss control consultant. In his role, he provides loss control services to policyholders in Wisconsin.

Prior to joining Accident Fund, Drew was a safety coordinator at Iowa State University for the Facilities Planning and Management Department. During his time there, he was responsible for managing safety and workers' compensation programs for an organization of more than 400 people, including trades, professional and support staff. Before that, he spent five years in retail loss prevention, three of which were in a supervisory role overseeing safety and loss prevention programs.

Drew obtained a Bachelor of Science in criminal justice – law enforcement from Winona State University and a Master of Science in safety, security, emergency management from Eastern Kentucky University. While completing his master's degree, Drew also obtained a graduate level certificate in occupational safety. As part of his orientation at Accident Fund, Drew earned his Certified Authority on Workers' Compensation (CAWC) designation and has since obtained his Certified Safety Professional (CSP) designation.
